

Save Our Schools Regional Rallies Nov. 16

Attacks to public education and decades of systemic underfunding have left our schools and classrooms without the proper resources—from books and materials to nurses, counselors, psychologists, and librarians—and have put educator jobs, healthcare and futures at risk. In fact, the latest healthcare proposal from LAUSD still freezes the amount of the district’s annual contribution and opens the door for healthcare cuts in the future. Our students deserve better. Enough is enough.

On November 16, we will rally across Los Angeles to demand:

- A healthcare agreement that truly commits to protecting our healthcare
- An increase in per pupil funding
- Lower class sizes in all grades
- More nurses, counselors, social workers, teacher librarians
- Competitive healthcare and salaries to retain quality teachers

- An end to overtesting and top-down mandates
- Wrap-around services and community schools
- An end to the privatization of our public schools that threatens students and educators
- Parent and educator voice on school budgets
