

WALK & KNOCK TO PROTECT YOUR JOB & SCHOOL

LAUSD released a Fiscal Stabilization Plan this summer that threatens the progress UTLA educators have won with calls for furlough days, healthcare cost increases, and cuts to critical student programs and positions. We will not go backward — we must hold the line to protect our wins and level up our fight to keep moving forward. Winning key races this fall is how we build the political power we need for the fight ahead.

YES on Prop 3 for Permanent Funding

California Proposition 3

Proposition 3 would permanently continue the existing tax on California's 2% wealthiest residents — which generates billions of dollars every year directly for classroom and instructional needs, including educator salaries.

Why We Need It

If Prop 3 isn't passed this year, LAUSD could stand to lose close to $600 million annually starting in 2031. State affiliates have endorsed YES on Prop 3 to fight potential losses to public education funding. Joining educators up and down California to support Prop 3 is the first step to protecting the funding we have and setting up to fight for more.

Public Education Champion Richard Barrera

State Superintendent

The California Superintendent of Public Instruction oversees every school system in the state, including LAUSD and the Los Angeles County Office of Education (LACOE), and manages the distribution of state funding to local school districts.

Why Richard Barrera

We need a state superintendent who will work with us on real budget solutions, not cuts to staffing and student programs. Endorsed by state affiliates, Richard Barrera has a proven commitment to working with educators and families as president of the San Diego Unified School District to fight for more school funding and housing affordability to address declining enrollment.

'The People's Attorney' Marissa Roy

LA City Attorney

The City Attorney is an elected position to serve as the city's lawyer with the power to take on big corporations and enforce the laws that protect working families — like protecting communities from industrial pollution, workers from wage theft, and tenants from bad landlords.

Why Marissa Roy

Marissa Roy has a track record of standing up to big corporations and the Trump administration to protect families, immigrants, and workers. She is the candidate who will stand with us to keep families in LA, protect public schools, and hold corporations like Lineage Logistics accountable.

TALK TO YOUR CHAPTER CHAIR TO SIGN UP FOR YOUR CHAPTER'S WALK DATES.

UTLA members have demonstrated that when we turn out to knock on doors and talk to voters, we have the power to beat the candidates backed by billionaire and corporate executive donors and get representatives elected who put educators, students, and working families first. This fall, UTLA members are leveling up our walk-and-knock game to fight cuts and gain more ground for strong public schools and communities.
